

Regula Spühler, Senior Consultant
regula.spuehler@eleveneye.com

Take your business to the next level

Companies change and develop. Whether it is growth, a new geography, expanded offerings or rejuvenation: The internal organization must keep pace and develop further. The controllability of these changes is essential for success in the market.

Eleveneye strengthens companies and measurably increases their fitness. Through the benefit-oriented use of information technology and new technologies as well as through a holistic view of material and immaterial values.

From our many years of working with customers, we have developed a method that makes “soft factors” transparent and measurable: contexture®.

By working with it, you receive ideas and proposed solutions that offer sustainable added value and measurable advance your company.

Our short assessment offers you a valuable helicopter view on your organization, its strengths, weaknesses and development potential – all within one hour. You will thus know the most effective measures and levers to lead your company or specific divisions into the future.

We advise with a focus on sustainable development. QuickWins are included, with ready-to-use immediate tips for their implementation.

We offer the following services:

- Short assessment for helicopter view, target/actual analysis and development potential.
- Consulting and support during transformation phases (e.g. strong growth)
- Project management in projects with a high percentage of change
- Consulting in process- and organizational development
- Consulting in corporate governance

I am looking forward to the exchange with you: regula.spuehler@eleveneye.com