

Consultant and Project Manager: Hospitals (Pensum flexibel)

Eleveneye offers innovative, high-quality consulting and project services at the interface of business and IT. We are a small team with well-founded competence, our passion lies in solving complex tasks and in trustful cooperation with customers, suppliers and partners. On this basis, we work together with our customers to design the healthcare system of tomorrow.

As a family business, we are committed to sustainable solutions and long-term, trusting cooperation with our customers, partners and suppliers.

Your motivation is to successfully meet customer challenges?

Do you like to develop innovative, feasible concepts and ensure clarity in your approach? As a consultant as well as a project manager*you are interested in the sustainability of your work?

Your profile

- You know the healthcare sector from your own professional experience;
- You have changed to the field of project and process management or have been successfully managing healthcare projects in this function for several years;
- Whether you have a more IT/technical or business-oriented professional background, you are looking for a challenge in which you actively participate and implement solutions together with customers;
- You value direct customer contact and see yourself as a future partner and benefit provider;
- You enjoy working in a team and enjoy the flexibility of working at customers' locations, in the Eleveneye- or home office;
- You communicate confidently in German, preferably also in English;
- You work in a structured and goal-oriented manner.

We offer you exciting, innovative and varied client mandates in which you can transform and implement innovative ideas with an interdisciplinary context into optimal solutions as a pioneer, lateral thinker and co-thinker. You bring your customer engagement, commitment and expertise, we offer attractive employment conditions and a company culture that fosters innovation and further education.

Work-/Life Balance? Part-time or full-time?

We offer flexibility and innovation not only to our clients. We use the latest tools and approaches for external and internal cooperation. Our employees plan their workloads with a high degree of personal flexibility in line with their client mandates. This is why we do not advertise vacancies with fixed workloads.

Interested in new, exciting challenges?

Then we should get to know each other. We are looking forward to professional reinforcement.
